Foreword

We are pleased to present to you the 1979 Mennonite Yearbook. It includes information about congregations, conferences, boards, agencies, schools, camps, and many other programs of the Mennonite Church, whose headquarters is in Lombard, Illinois. This volume also reflects the areas where the programs of the Mennonite Church intersect with other Mennonite and Brethren in Christ bodies in North America.

Regular features of the Yearbook continue with efforts made to gather complete listings. Additions include (1) the integration of congregations of the Evangelical Mennonite Brethren (EMB) and the Evangelical Mennonite Church of Canada (EMCC) into the Regional Directory. (2) Three new conferences were added to the Conference Directory. Atlantic Coast (AC) emerged as a separate conference from the eastern section of the Ohio and Eastern Conference. The Mid-Atlantic Fellowship (MA) and the Fellowship Churches (FC) are two new groupings of congregations formerly listed as part of the Unaffiliated Mennonite Congregations section. Despite this development, there remain 92 congregations who consider themselves unaffiliated. (3) Two new categories were added to the inter-Mennonite section—Mennonite and Brethren in Christ Archives and Libraries and Student and Young Adult Services. The former is designed to facilitate the search for the roots of our heritage and faith. The latter reflects the active role of the church in seeking to relate to the young adult segment of our membership.

Membership in North America of 106,691 (see tables II and III) reflects only a slight gain of 352 members. While four conferences showed slight losses, the others reflected only slight gains. Several conferences sought to reflect a more realistic membership data this year. For example, in five conferences where there are congregations with dual memberships only the Mennonite Church segment was reported. Last year only two conferences followed this plan. Then five unaffiliated congregations were dropped, as these had not responded to requests to update their data for over four years. These actions reduced membership by 435.

Overseas the membership (see tables III and V) showed a slight decline due to a correction in figures reported by the Kenya and Tanzania conferences. In 1978 the membership total of the Kenya segment was apparently reported separately and also included in the Tanzania totals. Thus the 1978 figure was inflated by 1,100. This year that duplication has been eliminated. Otherwise, overseas membership remained stable in the other bodies.

In the Ministerial Directory a new status for ministers, that of commissioned minister (CM), has been added. The definition of this status fits somewhere in between a minister ordained for life and one who is licensed for a specific assignment for a limited period of time. The commissioned minister is granted the CM status for the duration of an assignment in which full ministerial rights and responsibilities are carried. However, when the assignment is concluded, the status is no longer recognized. The new function, number 9, recognizes those ministers who exercise their gifts in direct Mennonite church-related work on levels other than in the congregation.

The continued downward trend in Sunday school and summer Bible school enrollment (see tables VIII and IX) likely reflects the declining birth rate. On the other hand, per member giving increased by $34.25 per member (table X). Mennonite Mutual Aid experienced growth in all program areas (table XIV). The educational data indicate that about 32% of college-age youth are attending college. However, only 15% are choosing one of our church schools while 17% are choosing other private or public schools (table XV). Seminary enrollment is up slightly (table XVI). Overall enrollments in colleges, seminaries, and high schools remained about the same (tables XVII and XVIII).

Specal thanks again goes to all who supplied information to this volume. As in previous years, dozens of people from congregations, conferences, schools, church boards, and agencies checked and confirmed the accuracy of the data in this volume. The integrity of this resource relies heavily upon their efforts. Space is not possible to list the names of the Mennonite Publishing House staff members who worked together to produce this completed volume to you. More than 50 people were directly involved and others assisted as needed to complete the job. These efforts made it possible for you to have this attractive volume in your hands within a limited, short production time. These staff members desire that the fruits of their labors will assist you in your work in the church.—JEH

The Mennonite Church 1979

By Willis L. Breckbill
Moderator, Mennonite Church General Assembly

The Mennonite Church consists of 1,194 congregations scattered across North America with a membership of 106,961. Congregations are located in rural and urban settings with memberships ranging from "two or three" to over 800. Members reflect various cultural, national, and economic backgrounds. Our cosmopolitan fellowship experiences both conflict in values and reconciliation in relationships; in those relationships it stresses an enjoyment in a common mission; it experiences both uncertainty about the shape of that mission and a faithful commitment to it. Thus our life together is not without problems.

But there is growth. There is growth in membership. There is growth in giving. There is growth in mission involvement. There is growth in understanding ourselves and who we are in relation to the world. No one sees us as perfect, nor as having arrived at our goals. But we press forward in greater obedience to the call of God in Christ Jesus. The story of our denomination continues.

This year the General Assembly of the Mennonite Church meets August 11-16, on the campuses of Conrad Grebel College and Waterloo University. Meeting conjointly with the Assembly will be the Adult and the Youth conventions. This event, called "Waterloo 79," will follow the theme "Acts: A Story Begun. . . ." Through the Bible studies it will become apparent that Jesus began to do and teach truths and acts native to the kingdom of God. The early church saw themselves as continuing that work and teaching. As a Mennonite Church we see ourselves as part of that story begun by Jesus, continued in the early church, and now in us. It is a captivating story that needs to be told to the world. Its telling is not in words only, but in deeds of service and concern for justice.

There are many parallels to what is recorded in the Book of Acts about the early church with the experiences and concerns of the Mennonite Church. I would like to identify a few of them.

Affirming Faith

On the day of Pentecost God made His presence known by the Holy Spirit. In his sermon Peter explained that event. Those who believed and were baptized numbered about 3,000. The first recorded activity of the new believers was to meet together "devoting themselves to the apostles' teaching and fellowship" (Acts 2:42).

Later a conference was held at Jerusalem to decide what to require of the new Gentile believers who had come to faith through the ministry of Paul and Barnabas. To solve the problem they reflected on their beliefs as supported by the Scriptures. "We believe that we shall be saved through the grace of the Lord Jesus just as they will" (Acts 15:11). After conferring, the group reached consensus, and recorded their affirmation in a letter which read in part, "It has seemed good to us and the Holy Spirit . . ." (Acts 15:28). The Apostle Paul wrote letters to the churches affirming the faith. His letters carry statements of doctrine, as well as application. Paul's counsel was reechoed later by the words of Hans Denk, an early Anabaptist leader who said, "No man can know Christ truly unless he follows him daily in life."

We, too, meet to confer on the content and meaning of our faith. Many congregations have used the material provided by the study committee, processed by the Mennonite Board of Congregational Ministries, and published by the Mennonite Publishing House. Affirming Our Faith in Word and Deed seeks to bring together doctrinal statements with our present-day experience in the community of Jesus Christ. The study report says, "This is a response to the present situation in our church with its challenges and its needs." It is presented in two major divisions, "Stating Our Faith—Word" and "Living Our Faith—Deed."

Authority and Leadership

The early church faced the question of authority and leadership. Peter assumed a leadership role at Pentecost, interpreting the event and calling people to faith. His leadership position was recognized. But Peter was also subject to the community of faith.

Paul took Peter to task for his unwillingness to live out his faith in a potentially volatile situation (Galatians 2:11 ff.). Paul wrote lengthy passages to prove his authority and position as an apostle to the young churches (Galatians 1, 2; 2 Corinthians 10-13).

We, too, struggle with the question of leadership and authority. At one time these seemed to be lodged with bishops and ministers. It then moved to the conference or the denomination. Now we are saying that it resides primarily with the local congregation. Conference and the larger structures are seen as servants to the congregation. However, the question of leadership and authority is not totally resolved, nor will it be with any easy stroke. Waterloo 79 will receive a preliminary report from the study committee on "Leadership and Authority in the Life of the Church." Plans are that it will become a study document to help conferences and congregations to think through these issues.

Peace and Justice

The early church found itself in a hostile society. The values it espoused were often diametrically opposed to those of the world. The church proclaimed a new ethic of love and justice. They shared generously with one another so that no member was in need. They held their possessions in an open hand. No one called what he owned his own. That did not free them from problems for some widows (Greeks) felt they were not receiving the same generosity as other widows (Jews). The early believers had not fully incorporated into their minds and beings that God was for all people without partiality. Peter, the leader, needed a vision to bring him to the willingness to say, "Truly, I perceive that God shows no partiality, but in every nation any one who fears him and does what is right is acceptable to him" (Acts 10:34). While at Philippi Paul encountered some merchants who were making large profits on a slave girl who had a spirit of divination. He spoke words of freedom. The merchants were so angered that they had Paul imprisoned. The gospel could not allow injustice to prevail.

We, too, face ethical questions. How does a Christian live in a profit-oriented society whose excesses are often protected by law? How does a Christian speak to civil authorities about injustices? How do Christians handle internal offenses? These and related issues will be brought into focus through reports by two committees: "Litigation and the Use of the Law" and "Peace and Social Justice."

Mission

Acts is a mission story. It starts in Jerusalem and ends in Rome. In between there was Judea and Samaria. Main characters include Peter, John, Philip, Paul, Barnabas, and Silas. Their strategy was to go to the urban communities. Antioch, Ephesus, Corinth, Athens, and Rome were main cultural and trade centers. They did not fear confrontation with the world, for they believed their message. "I am not ashamed of the gospel: it is the power of God for salvation to every one who has faith" (Romans 1:16). Paul, with Barnabas, was commissioned by the church in Antioch for the work to which the Holy Spirit had called them. Members fasted, prayed, and "laid their hands on them and sent them off" (Acts 13:1-3). Paul, Barnabas, and later Silas were designated mission workers. But not all the churches were started by them. For example, the church at Rome. Paul wrote his letter to the Roman Christians expressing his desire to visit them after it had been started. It is thought that Christians traveled to Rome and were engaged in business or a trade. While there they found each other and started a congregation. The Church at Rome developed into such a growing, influential congregation that Paul could write "your faith is proclaimed in all the world" (Romans 1:8).

We, too, are constrained to take the gospel to those in our world. For decades our mission boards have been sending missionaries to other countries. India, Argentina, Brazil, Japan, Nigeria, Italy, and many other countries are common names among us. Mennonites have also gone to the cities of North America: New York, Boston, Los Angeles, Chicago, Phoenix, Toronto, Edmonton, and many others. But our ministry in the city has not always been effective. We are not sure how to be the church in the city. At Estes Park 77 we were challenged and called to renew our efforts of ministry in the city. The General Board, through its General Secretary, Ivan Kauffmann, launched a program to raise the level of awareness of urban needs and challenged conferences and congregations to give and go. The agencies of the church were encouraged to look at their programs as they related to urban ministries and to adjust programs in order to better serve these concerns. The results are encouraging. Conferences and regions are looking at the cities in their district. Funds are being designated for the training of leaders in urban ministries. Agencies took the challenge seriously. Each conference and congregation was asked to be involved in the enlisting and training of disciples for mission.

Money

Money is important in the life of the church. Immediately following Peter's sermon in Acts 2, those who believed began to share their possessions. Some sold properties and shared their profits with the community of faith. A few cheated and died. In his letter Paul encouraged churches to give. They gave toward his support. They gave to the needy. In the course of time the giving responsibility was passed among the churches so "that as a matter of equality your abundance at the present time should supply their want, so that their abundance may supply your want, that there may be equality" (2 Corinthians 8:14).

We, too, need to face the money question. The church carries out its work through the local congregation, the conferences and regions and the boards and agencies. At all levels there are staff persons employed to do certain tasks which help the whole. The pastor, the conference minister, the executive officers and secretaries, the administrators and teachers, and those sent to the city or to other countries as bearers of the good news, are all supported by local congregations. In the early stages of our mission and educational work monies were available and programs expanded. Pastors received little or no support. Conferences operated on a minimum budget with no staff. But times have changed. Now money stays closer home. Boards and agencies need to work harder to raise the funds necessary for their operations. It is even necessary to hold to the budget of the previous year, which because of inflation, actually results in a decrease in program. That is a sad note but a realistic one.

The Story Continues

The Book of Acts tells the dramatic and dynamic story of the early church. The story continues to be dynamic and dramatic. We are part of that story. We are the actors and the tellers. We are forming the story. In the early church the actors needed to decide how they would repsond to God's grace shown to them by Jesus. They responded in different ways. We want to take as our models those who contributed to the growth of the church.

Peter—who explained God's purpose and the events of the day; who drew from the old to explain the new, who changed his prejudice to acceptance of all peoples.

Paul—willing to go to cities, willing to take persecution for righteousness' sake, willing to live on minimum income to promote the gospel.

Barnabas—ready to pay the price to make peace among brothers, ready to introduce the other to prominence.

Aquila and Priscilla—who knew their faith well and took the initative to help Appollos understand more fully the way of God.

John—living the life of love and challenging others to the same, receiving a vision of what can be and passing it on to others.

Eunice and Lois—who shared the faith with their son and grandson Timothy so that he could grow up well grounded in the faith.

How do we respond? The believers in Macedonia modeled it well, for when asked to contribute money, they first gave themselves to the Lord and to the church by the will of God (2 Corinthians 8:5). Then they begged for the opportunity to share.

The work that Jesus began continues to be done through His disciples. The story continues. Our faithful obedience is required. "His unfinished work on earth must truly be our own." □

The cover photo: The Pioneer Memorial Tower was built south of Kitchener, Ontario, in 1927. The tower commemorates the arrival of the first Mennonites in Waterloo County in the spring of 1800. Coming from Pennsylvania, the pioneers settled on 60,000 acres along the Grand River brought from the Six Nations Indians and a co-owner named Beasley (who unfortunately proved to be a swindler). Today there are about 45 Mennonite congregations in Waterloo County.

Mennonite Church Regional Boundaries

Regional Directory of Congregations

This directory lists Mennonite Church congregations according to the region in which they are located. Within each region, congregations are listed alphabetically by state, province and city. This directory includes all the Mennonite Church congregations which are listed in the "Conference and District Directory of Congregations." Most of these congregations are members of district conferences; however, some ("Unaffiliated Mennonite Congregations") are not related to any district or conference. Most participate in the regional activities and send delegates to the General Assembly; however, some consider themselves part of the larger Mennonite church body, but choose not to participate in the programs of the region or the General Assembly. These factors are noted at the beginning of each regional listing.

In addition, the directory includes all congregations affiliated with the Brethren in Christ, General Conference Mennonite, Mennonite Brethren, Evangelical Mennonite Brethren and the Evangelical Mennonite Conference of Canada churches. These are integrated with the Mennonite congregations but set in italic type for ease of identification. Information listed about these congregations includes name, number, affiliation (BIC—Brethren in Christ; EMB—Evangelical Mennonite Brethren Conference; EMCC—Evangelical Mennonite Conference of Canada; GC—General Conference Mennonite; and MB—Mennonite Brethren) and location.

The geographical area, regional officers, committees, a summary of the Mennonite Church conference affiliation of congregations, membership, and a listing of delegates to Mennonite General Assembly are noted with each region. Information regarding district conference organizations, bishops/overseers, and congregations is found in the "Conference and District Directory of Congregations" section of this volume.

The purpose of this directory is to provide information regarding the meetinghouse of the congregation. It is designed to assist readers in their efforts to find or contact the congregation at its meetinghouse. Note that the location of the meetinghouse is, in most cases, not a mailing address. All mail should be directed to the office or the contact person listed under the congregation in the "Conference and District Directory of Congregations." Persons desiring to get in touch with the pastor, or contact person of a congregation, should follow the information provided in the "Conference and District Directory of Congregations." Effort was made to secure complete and accurate information about each congregation listed. If there are errors and/or if there is data missing, please provide full information to the Editor, Mennonite Yearbook, Mennonite Publishing House, 616 Walnut Ave., Scottdale, PA 15683. An example of a complete Mennonite Church congregational listing is as follows:

Note: For explanation of congregational listing and codes, see beginning of "Regional Directory of Congregations." Conference codes are described at the beginning of each region.

Conference and District Directory of Congregations

This directory lists Mennonite Church conferences alphabetically by name of conferen or district. Within each conference, congregations are listed alphabetically by name of cc gregation. Note one exception: The Conservative Mennonite Conference lists congregatio alphabetically by country and state. Within each state, congregations are listed alphabetica by name. A few of the conferences and districts identify with the Mennonite Church at larg but do not participate with regional planning groups nor send delegates to the Gene Assembly. Note that the Eastern Pennsylvania Mennonite Church and the Beachy Amish a listed in separate directories later in this volume.

The purpose of this directory is to provide all the information needed to contact o person (Pastor or contact person) for a given congregation by mail or phone without needi to consult other sections of the Yearbook. This person is noted with a number 1 after the min terial status code. Ordained persons who carry active responsibility in the congregations a also listed with each congregation. These carry a number 2. Ordained persons who a retired or without congregational responsibility or are serving as active missionaries overse are listed in paragraphs with the respective conference and district organizations. Ordain persons who carry district, conference, or churchwide responsibilities in addition to cc gregational duties are designated by the number 5. Ordained persons serving as st members of a Mennonite Church-sponsored-or-related board, agency, or program, (numb 9), and chaplains (number 6) are listed in the "Ministerial Directory" only. Note one exceptic In the listing of "Unaffiliated Mennonite Congregations," all ordained persons are includ with each congregation regardless of their ministerial function.

The mailing address and telephone number of the church office is listed for those cc gregations whose office address or telephone number is different from that of the pastor contact person. The address and telephone number of the pastor or contact person is home address and number, not that of the meetinghouse or office. Information regarding meetinghouse (location, telephone, etc.) is provided in the "Regional Directory of Congre tions" section of this volume. An example of a complete congregational listing is as follows

name of congregation	cong. number	date of organization	cong. code	dist. conf. cross ref. no.	city, state/province	region	cong. members

Church Communities

Church communities is a broad designation for the house churches and intentional communities within the Anabaptist-Mennonite movement. Communities listed relate in a variety of ways to the Mennonite Church, as well as other churches and movements. Most communities follow a multiple-shared pattern of leadership. However, in the listing below, the name of only one person is given in order to provide a point of contact with the community. Some communities hold membership in a district conference. The conference abbreviation is noted in the parenthesis following the region.

Note: For explanation of congregational listing and codes, see beginning of "Conference and District Directory of Congregations."

Directory of Overseas Mennonite Churches

(Related to Mennonite Church)

This directory lists overseas churches which emerged out of mission work conducted by the Mennonite Board of Missions as well as district and conference mission boards. These conferences, though independent, maintain continuing fraternal ties to the Mennonite Church in North America.

The conferences are listed alphabetically by name. Within each conference the congregations are listed alphabetically by name of congregation. Each congregational listing includes the name of the pastor or leader. Only one name is included. Other persons active in the leadership of the congregation are included in the "Ministerial Directory." A complete congregational listing would include the following: (See beginning of "Conference and District Directory of Congregations" for explanation of status of pastor / leader. Note that the geographical location of the meetinghouse is not a mailing address. Address all correspondence in the name of the pastor or leader whose address is found in the "Ministerial Directory" of this volume.)

GENERAL INFORMATION AND STATISTICS

Date founded: 1905

Purpose and function: The primary role of the Mennonite Board of Education is to consider Mennonite Church educational objectives and to provide for the use of personnel and financial resources in meeting these objectives in the best way. It is responsible to the church for the operation of Hesston and Goshen colleges and Goshen Biblical Seminary. In relation to these schools, the Mennonite Board of Education:

—appoints the presidents and Overseer Board members;
—establishes broad basic policies;
—reviews and approves institutional goals and objectives, long-range program and budget planning, new academic programs;
—makes specific policy decisions as needed, especially on relationships among Mennonite educational institutions;
—holds title to capital assets of these schools;
—works with Mennonite Church General Board in communicating financial needs of the schools to the church.

The Mennonite Board of Education works in a coordinating and consulting relationship with Eastern Mennonite College and Seminary, with the ten high schools of the Mennonite Secondary Education Council, and with the 18 schools of the Mennonite elementary Education Council.

The Board meets quarterly, with the annual meeting in November

Fiscal year: July 1—June 30

GENERAL INFORMATION AND STATISTICS

Date founded; 1882 as Mennonite Evangelizing Committee: incorporated in Ohio in 1906 as Mennonite Board of Missions and Charities

Purpose and function: The objectives of Mennonite Board of Missions, according to its bylaws, are "to promote and administer activities and programs of evangelism, church growth, social concern, at home and overseas." In carrying out these objectives, MBM seeks to commission servant workers, call persons to life in Christ, heal the sick, release the captive, free the oppressed, build Christian community, and release gifts and resources.

Staff and workers: MBM carries out its task through six program divisions with a full-time worker corps of over 1,700—including some 60 staff members at Elkhart, Ind.; 30 at Harrisonburg, Va.; and 150 workers overseas in 20 countries

Publications: Agape, a bimonthly for and about Voluntary Service: Alive a bimonthly from Mennonite Broadcasts; Mission Focus, quarterly for mission leaders and planners; Sent, a bimonthly about the people and work of MBM, inserted in Gospel Herald

Finances: In 1976 Board disbursements totaled $4,898,360, of which $3,710,570 came from congregations and individuals

Fiscal year: February 1—January 31

Annual Meeting of Board: November

Mission Months: Spring Missions Month—March; Fall Missions Month—November

Mission Rallies; Allegheny Conference, March 31—April 1; Southeast Iowa, October 29—November 4

Child Welfare Services

Note: The following institutions represent a variety of relationships. Some are administered by the Mennonite Board of Missions; others are administered by district conferences, local and regional boards, or by Mennonite Central Committee. The sponsoring board is noted with each institution listed.

GENERAL INFORMATION AND STATISTICS

Date of Organization: 1920

Purpose and Function: MCC is the cooperative relief and service agency of 17 North American Mennonite and Brethren in Christ churches and conferences. Central for Mennonites is Christ's call for Christians to reflect the compassion of Jesus, teach the good news to the poor, proclaim liberty for the captives and recovery of sight for the blind, and set at liberty those who are oppressed. Community development, peacemaking, and material aid are carried on "in the name of Christ" in response to Christ's command to teach all nations the way of discipleship, love, and peace.

Publications: MCC Contact (formerly Women's Activity Letter), Intercom, Link Peace Section Newsletter, Washington Memo, P.S. (Post Service).

Notes

[1]Full-time students, actual count.

[2]Includes some part-time in addition to full-time students. Corrected for non-reporting congregations.

[3]First-column figures for these groups include only those congregations not holding membership in other, larger, parent conferences. Student totals are based on each student's response as to his conference; of students in the congregations with dual conference membership, some may have named and be included with the parent conference, while others are included in the newer group's totals.

[4]"Various" includes Church Communities, Northern Light Gospel Mission Conference, Southeastern Mennonite Conference, and Unaffiliated Mennonite congregations. Information from other groups not available.

Notes

In addition to the Mennonite Church students of the Table XVI, the data in this table include all other students. The first column for each school lists full-time students and in the second column part-time students are added.

Some of the schools, especially the seminaries, have a significant ministry to students not taking course work for credit. These audit and extension students are not included in the numbers reported here.

Mennonite Church Ministerial Directory

This directory lists all ordained persons who are members of the Mennonite Church in North America and the Overseas Mennonite Churches related to it. The information provided for each person is as follows: Name; address; telephone; status and function; date of birth; date of ordination as deacon, minister, and bishop; congregational name and number (if persons carries function No. 1); conference affiliation; and the region in which the person lives. See example below. Where information is not available or not applicable (for example, the category of region for Overseas Mennonite Churches), it is ommitted. Codes used in this listing are noted below.

Every effort has been made to secure complete and accurate information for each name. However, the situation of a person may change or the information was not available at the time when it was gathered. It would be most helpful if each person would check the accuracy of the information that is listed. If there are errors and / or there is information missing, please send the correct and / or full information to the Editor, Mennonite Yearbook, Mennonite Publishing House, 616 Walnut Ave., Scottdale, PA 15683. Your help will make the Mennonite Yearbook a more useful and reliable tool for each member of the church in North America and around the World.

Readings About Mennonite Life in Canada

The Mennonites in Ontario by J. Winfield Fretz

Describes the various Mennonite groups in Ontario, their origins, and their continuous struggle to determine essential aspects of Christian discipleship. Includes 30 photos and sketches. For the uninformed inquiring non-Mennonite reader. The Mennonite Historical Society of Ontario, 1967, 44 pages, $1.50.

Mennonites in Canada 1786-1920 by Frank H. Epp

A comprehensive history of Mennonites in Canada without regard to geographical, chronological, or denominational limitations. Documents the various Mennonite migrations to Canada, their origins, settlements, and struggles without contemporary issues and pressures. Includes 20 charts and maps, 46 tables, and 16 sketches. The Macmillan Company of Canada Ltd., 1974, 480 pages, $12.95.

The Amish of Canada by Orland Gingerich

The first comprehensive history of the Amish of Canada (1822-1972). The author interprets their history, records their participation in the development of Canada and their internal tensions to remain true to their faith. Contains 36 illustrations and a list of congregations and leaders. Originally published in 1972 by Conrad Press. Herald Press, 1978, 244 pages, $5.75.

One Hundred and Fifty Years by Lorraine Roth

A summary of 150 years of Amish history in Ontario. Includes 60 illustrations including maps, documents, and photographs. For the casual reader. The Ontario Amish Sesquicentennial Publications Committee, 1972, 50 pages, $1.50.

Mennonite Memories edited by Julius Toews and Lawrence Klippenstein

A collection prepared by many writers to portray glimpses of the lives of the descendants of Manitoba Mennonite pioneers who came from Russia in the early 1870s. Filled with stories of human interest, illustrations, charts, and maps. Centennial Publications, 2nd edition, 1977, 330 pages, $15.00.

Ontario Fraktur Art by Michael S. Bird

The first serious study of Fraktur done in Canada. Two hundred and forty-two illustrations (many in full color) from collections in Pennsylvania, the Niagara Peninsula, Waterloo County, and Markham Township. M. F. Fehely Publication, 1977, 144 pages, $18.00.

Anna's Art by E. Reginald Good

A collection of pen and wash Fraktur done by Anna Weber (1814-1888), a Mennonite of Waterloo County. Her art has been preserved and treasured by many. Includes 18 illustrations in full color. Pochana Publication, 1976, 48 pages, $10.95.

Readings selected and annotated by Lorna Bergey. Titles available at Provident and other religious bookstores. Canadian prices listed. For other titles about the Mennonite experience in Canada, write Provident Bookstore, 117 King St., W., Kitchener, Ont. N2G 4M5, and request the annotated bibliography "Anabaptist Mennonite Books."
